Commonwealth Problem

Ghana Union Bewildering

LONDON (AP) — The surprise Ghana-Guinea move toward a West African union yesterday (see page 8) faced Commonwealth nations with a set of bewildering constitutional issues.

The main one:

Can an independent sovereign foreign power link up with the Commonwealth and share its privileges without recognizing the Queen as its head?

And another:

Has any single member-state the right to bring its friends underneath the Commonwealth umbrella without first closely consulting its partners?

Prime Minister Macmillan began urgent consultations with his fellow Commonwealth prime ministers about the weekend move announced in Accra.

Malays Feel Insulted

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters)—Public leaders here Monday called on the publishers of the Encyclopedia Britannica to "end their insults to the Malay people." They took offence at the references to Malays in the 1947-57 edition of the Encyclopedia as "indolent, pleasure-loving, improvident, fond of bright clothing, of comfort, of ease, and dislike toil exceedingly."

Everyone Could Be Wiped Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federation of American Scientists said Monday the United States, Britain and Russia now have enough nuclear bombs to wipe out every person in the world and urged the United States to end atomic tests forever.

Cabinet Ponders Decision

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet will meet today in an attempt to reach a decision on the rail strike issue, acting prime minister Green said Monday night. (See Page 21).

But he told reporters he did not know whether the ministers could reach the conclusion today that might mean the difference between a general rail strike Dec. 1 and continuation of train service.

EIGHT APPEAL

The cabinet spent morning and afternoon sessions Monday hearing argument on an appeal by eight provinces from the latest freight rate increase—aimed at giving the railways money to make a settlement with employees — and were sitting again last night.

Following a late night meeting, the cabinet reserved decision on the appeal.

NOT SURE

Mr. Green had no comment on the night meeting and said he was not sure whether the cabinet would be able to reach a final decision today.

He was asked whether he would be in touch today with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, now in Ceylon, and he said he was not sure of that, either.

Eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—that are appealing the freight increase presented argument.

SIX DAYS AWAY

Today is just six days from the deadline for a strike that would tie up the transcontinental railways.

Meanwhile, provincial spokesmen Monday put before the cabinet a proposal for a temporary federal subsidy for the railways to permit a settlement of the dispute now, coupled with an investigation into whether it should be continued.

Hard-Hitting Bid Creates Sensation

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP)—RCAF Air Marshal Roy Slemon said Monday a manned interceptor in the RCAF is an "inescapable requirement for as long as we can see."

The deputy commanders of North American Air Defence Command headquarters here told a group of Canadan reporters that the supersonic jet Arrow interceptor will have more speed, altitude, range and manoeuverability than the American supersonic F-106.

BEST AVAILABLE

The Arrow would be the highest performance interceptor available in North America until the American F-108 is ready in five or six years.

No less than four times at the press conference, Air Marshal Slemon, former RCAF chief of staff, stressed the continuing need for manned interceptors in the Canadian air defence system. On the first occasion, he brought up the subject himself.

AIR MASHAL SLEMON

TWO INTERPRETATIONS

There appeared two interpretations of Air Marshal Slemon's remarks: either he is preparing the way for a government announcement in March that the Arrow will be ordered into limited production; or he is so convinced of the need of the Arrow in the RCAF that he is willing to lay his job on the line to fight for the plane.

LONG TIME YET

Air Marshal Slemon and Gen. Earle Partridge of the United States Air Force, NORAD commander, said that they have recommended to the Canadian chiefs of staff that manned interceptors be retained for a long time yet in the air defence system to counter the threat of manned bombers.

Air Marshal Slemon added, however, it is not NORAD's business to make any specific recommendations about which planes governments should purchase.

Air Marshal Slemon's statement runs counter to that of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's last Sept. 23 in which he announced that the government was deferring until March its decision on whether to order the Arrow into production.

Mr. Diefenbaker said it appeared doubtful that manned interceptors would have any useful role to play in air defence after 1961, the year in which the Arrow would come into squadron service.

TAKEN ABACK

Reporters were taken aback by the RCAF officer's remarks because Air Marshal Slemon has had a reputation for steering clear of controversies with political overtones.

At the same time, senior RCAF officers are saying privately that cancellation of the Arrow program likely would jeopardize Canada's position in NORAD.

If the Canadian government did away with manned interceptors for the RCAF, Canada

Untrained Sons Save Doctor

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Two brothers, neither of whom had any medical training, used a kitchen knife and a fountain pen to perform an emergency tracheotomy and save the life of their doctor father Sunday.

The dramatic operation took place in the kitchen of a farm home near suburban Rosemount where the family of Dr. Charles A. Olson of St. Paul had gathered to celebrate the doctor's 25th wedding anniversary.

CHOKED ON HAM

The group was eating dinner when the 71-year-old physician choked on a piece of ham.

"There was complete stoppage of breath," said son Charles, "and we knew something had to be done."

LAID ON FLOOR

He and a brother, Robert, operator of the farm, carried him to the kitchen and laid him on the floor.

HAD TO OPERATE

Charles said, "We decided my brother had to operate. He took a paring knife and made an incision into the trachea (the windpipe). He stuck his finger into the opening so a little oxygen could get into the lungs. Then we broke a fountain pen and used the barrel as an air passage into the trachea.

COUGHED IT UP

"It took some pounding and moving him about, but we got my father breathing again. In a couple of minutes he coughed up the piece of ham."

At the hospital Monday, physicians said they had to "do a little repair work" on the incision, but that Dr. Olson is mending excellently and will be all right. "They saved their father's life," the physicians said.

Dispute Idles Loggers

PORT ALBERNI—Some 825 loggers employed at Macmillan and Bloedel logging divisions near here stayed off the job yesterday in what the company termed "illegal strikes."

Day shift workers would not get on the buses provided to take them to Sproat Lake operations until 7.45 a.m.—the regular camp starting time—while the company said the men should have boarded the buses at the "customary time" of 7 a.m.

All logging in the affected camps came to a halt.

Stock Market Hit By Selling Wave

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Stock market prices suffered their most severe losses in more than three years Monday, when New York set off a selling wave that was still in progress when the session closed.

The Dow Jones industrial average on New York was down 14.68 points (compared with 31.89 points on Sept 26, 1955, when President Eisenhower had his first heart attack).

At Toronto the industrial average dropped 9.18 points in moderate activity. Inter-listed stocks fared worst on the Canadian exchanges.

The slump at New York was not attributed to any single direct cause.

Selling orders accumulated over the weekend as investors decided this was the time to take profits. The market made a new all-time high last week.

Stocks which have risen sharply in the past few months were among the most heavily hit.

However, the two leading traders at New York—American Motors and Pennsylvania Railroad—were both higher on the day.

Major oils were among the weakest features on the Canadian exchanges. Senior metals, including International Nickel—went down in line with New York.

Mrs. Santa Helps 500 Fund Again

An appeal for toys for the Colonist's 500 Christmas Fund toy auction to be held at Maynard's auction rooms at 7.30 p.m., Dec. 20, brought a quick response from Mrs. Marion Kirkwood, 914 Arcadia, who says she will be supplying a lot of her specially-made stuffed toys.

Her toys proved a popular item at last year's auction and her generosity in donating them won her the nickname of Mrs. Santa Claus.

Toys, new or used, are sought for auctioning and anyone may donate them by sending them to Maynard's auction rooms as soon as possible, clearly marked "500 Christmas Fund, Outright Donation" or "500 Christmas Fund, Commission." If they are marked for commission the fund gets only the auctioneer's commission and the person sending in the toy gets the rest of the bid price.

A $50 cheque from the B.C. Electric welfare committee and several other sizable donations helped swell the fund to $621 yesterday, which assures each of the 500 most needy family groups in Victoria christ of at least a little more than $1. Last year each family received $19.57.

Elephant Crushes Worker with Head

GROVES, Tex. (UPI)—An elephant knocked James Donald Lloyd, 28, down with her trunk Monday and stood on her head upon his prone body. Lloyd, a circus employee, died an hour later.

Circus employees said the killing was unprovoked and that Dorothy had attacked 11 persons before but never killed any until Lloyd came by.

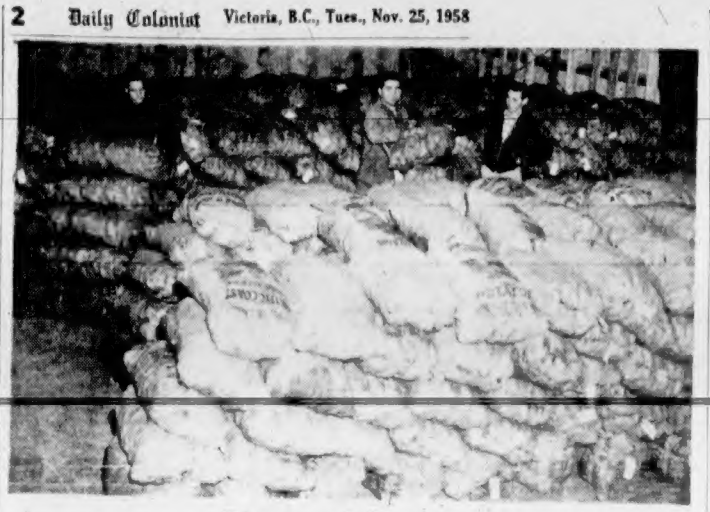
Bullets Flying In Chase

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Two men, one a police inspector, were wounded Monday during a running gun battle in the city's east end.

A police spokesman said Walter Osborne, 44, of Saint John was felled by a police bullet after leading police through a parking lot, a cemetery and a swamp.

Police Inspector J. A. Littlejohn was wounded slightly in the side during the exchange of gunfire. The bullet was deflected by the inspector's revolver holster.

Police were called to a house after two shots were fired from a third-storey window at passersby. A third bullet shattered the windshield of a police prowl car as it pulled up to the house.



Plenty of Potatoes

Mountains of "murphies" at Vancouver Island's first potato warehouse at Market and Quesnel Streets in Victoria are piled by Lewis Marcsa, left; Mike Buna and Carl Doricic. The warehouse, built by the Island Vegetable Co-operative with assistance from provincial and federal governments, will be opened at the end of this month. Victoria markets 70 per cent of the Island's potato crop.—(Colonist photo.)

'We Don't Want to Antagonize These People'

Oak Bay Dislikes Signs, Too

Oak Bay and Victoria are united in one thing—neither council likes the proposed Capital Improvement District Commission signs the government wants erected.

Last night Oak Bay council cautiously turned down a request from the commission that it put up signs at both the Willows Beach and Beach Drive projects — despite the [illegible] would be temporary only.

Instead the commission will be informed that Oak Bay "prefers" to wait for permanent signs.

"We don't want to antagonize these people," commented Coun. George Murdoch, adding that a harsh refusal could mean that Oak Bay would be left out of future capital district developments.

At first council seemed divided on the subject.

"Why shouldn't they (the government) get a pat on the back?" said Coun. Fred Robinson. "They're paying for it."

Reeve F. E. Norris noted that once the signs went up it was a bit difficult to differentiate between what had been done by the municipality and what had been done by the commission.

Apparently, he added, the commission had now changed its views on the signs and that they were to be temporary, while the commission was exploring a design for a permanent sign.

Coun. S. P. Birley and Coun. Fred Hawes appeared to be opposed to the signs, with Coun. Robinson and Coun. Murdoch in favor.

Unity was restored, however, when one of the proposed signs was brought in for council's inspection.

"Is that in Socred colors?" asked Coun. Birley.

"I withdraw my approval," said Coun. Robinson. "But if they cut that top portion off I'll go along with it."

The top portion read: "Government of British Columbia" and had the provincial crest on [illegible] yellow and white sign was: "Another project by the Capital Improvement District Commission."

"Frankly, I don't approve," said Coun. Robinson. "If they come up with a decent sign I'll go along. Let's wait until they come up with a permanent sign."

Said Coun. Murdoch: "In all respects, whether we like their politics or not, they are entitled to a certain amount of publicity."

Britain, U.S., Russia 'Antics Childish'

WEYBURN, Sask. (CP)—Hazen Argue, CCF Commons leader, Monday night accused Britain, the United States and Russia of "irresponsible and childish antics" in the field of nuclear test suspension.

"These great powers are playing with fire," he said at a public meeting here. "They are like little boys with matches and neither of them will stop lighting his matches while the others are lighting theirs.

"The health of all the world's people is endangered by their reckless obstinacy."

Mr. Argue said the "cavalier attitude of the great powers to the health of the people of the world in the matter of nuclear tests is to be condemned."

"It does look as if neither the United States nor the Soviet Union is particularly sincere about the proposals they put forward."

If a permanent cessation could not be agreed on immediately, tests should be stopped on a temporary basis, he said. A temporary halt might grow into a permanent one.

One Man Killed By Fireworks

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—Three explosions, each followed by huge sheets of flame, destroyed the main plants of two adjacent fireworks companies Monday, killing one man and injuring seven other persons.

Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

would have only two bases of ground-to-air Bomarc guided missiles in 1960. This, they said, would raise the prospect of more American fighter squadrons being based in Canada there now is one at Harmon Field, Nfld., and another at Goose Bay, Labrador — and Canada having to relinquish its senior positions in NORAD.

HOLD TWO TOP POSTS

RCAF officers now hold down two of the seven top posts in NORAD although Canada contributes only nine fighter squadrons. The U.S. contributes 60 squadrons, 61 Nike missile battalions, 45 ships and some 170,000 of the 200,000 personnel under NORAD control.

FARTHER NORTH

Air Marshal Slemon said the air defence system is being pushed farther north as new radar stations are being built. At the moment, any bombers attacking North America from the polar regions could be intercepted at a line running roughly through James Bay.

He said NORAD is not hard-pressed "at the moment" for more fighter bases in Canada because the limiting factor was the number of radar stations available to control the operations of the interceptors.

THREAT REMAINS

Air Marshal Slemon said "we need very long range manned interceptors to carry out interceptions as far north as possible. The threat of manned or unmanned bombers confronts us for as long as we can see into the future."

TORONTO (CP)—Avro Aircraft Limited said Monday night it could build enough supersonic Arrow jet interceptors to rearm the North American Air Defence Command if NORAD wants them.

Air Marshal Slemon's remarks brought no immediate reaction from defence officials in Ottawa. There is expected to be no official comment at least until Defence Minister Pearkes has had a chance to study the statements reported to have been made by Air Marshal Slemon.

Armed Convoys for Berlin? What If Reds Start Shooting?

BERLIN (AP) — Western experts Monday night studied —many with grave doubts— proposals to ram armed convoys through any Communist blockade of West Berlin.

Talk of tank-led convoys and armored trains is heard from some Western officials in the event of an East German blockade of this isolated city.

It is one proposed answer if — as expected shortly — the Russians transfer to East Germany their controls over Western lifelines to West Berlin.

The West Germans are balking at an alternative plan under study by the United States, Britain and France for accepting East German controls on a non-recognition basis.

The Russians, through their embassies in East Berlin and Bonn, said yesterday they would avoid use of military force to get the Western allies out of Berlin.

In Bonn, West German foreign office sources said the get-tough idea is gaining ground among Western allies. That's what the West Germans want.

thinking supposes that the East Germans and the Russians would back off from armed Allied convoys rather than clash with the West. But the prospect that the Communists might start shooting makes one shudder.

To understand why, it is only necessary to look at the practical problems of running a gauntlet to West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

No 'Queen,' Natives Restless

TORONTO (CP) — Three Toronto city controllers walked out of the annual banquet of the Native Sons of Canada, Toronto Assembly, after their hosts refused to play "God Save the Queen" when the toast to the Queen was proposed.

Joseph Cornish, William R. Allen and Mrs. Jean D. Newman left after the issue had been argued for half an hour.

'Playing Miners'

Half-Buried Boy Digs Friend Free

TORONTO (CP) — A 12-year-old boy, half trapped in a cave-in Sunday in suburban Downsview, scraped and dug desperately to free his companion suffocating under masses of wet clay.

Jim Gordon managed to free himself and dug away chunks of clay from the face of nine-year-old Victor Showers. The youngsters were "playing miners" in a cave they dug in the side of a ravine.

Victor was taken to hospital where his condition is described as satisfactory.

Most Elaborate Reception

Colombo Plan Birthplace Greets John D.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker arrived yesterday to one of the most elaborate welcoming ceremonies he has yet received on his 54-day world tour.

In the 15 minutes following his six-hour flight from New Delhi, the Canadian leader was met on the plane by the Ceylon home affairs minister, who in turn introduced him to other Ceylon ministers, was draped with purple garlands of orchids, and greeted Ceylon Prime Minister S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike.

He took two official salutes, inspected an honor guard, shook hands with military brass and diplomats and signed the traditional visitors' golden book before making a brief arrival speech.

The world-touring Mr. Diefenbaker was scheduled to spend three days in this Commonwealth nation of 9,000,000 people, two days here in the capital and another day on a side trip to nearby Kandy.

It was here in Ceylon, the Canadian prime minister told the airport crowd, that "one of the most humanitarian plans of our time" — the Colombo Plan — was created almost nine years ago. He said he hoped his talks with Mr. Bandaranaike and other Ceylon leaders would "not only permit me to appreciate your problems, but also make some contribution toward their solution."

Confusing the Scent

WHEN Premier Bennett a week ago proclaimed his intention to appoint a royal commission to examine some of the accusations made against the government by Mr. Briggs, this paper detected an odor of red herring, and said so. Beyond that, views as to the scope of the inquiry were reserved pending publication of the commission's terms of reference. That has now been made; and the wording of the commission's instructions supports the original suspicion that Premier Bennett does not intend the investigation to go to the core of Mr. Briggs' complaint, which was that public power in this province was being emasculated for the benefit of the B.C. Electric and the Wenner-Gren group.

In the hunting field the purpose of drawing a red herring across the trail was to confuse the scent and divert the pack. In the forthcoming inquiry it looks very much as if the hounds are to be sent in pursuit of facts which have little bearing on the main issue. To vary the metaphor slightly there are grounds for belief that the royal commission is being despatched on a wild goose chase.

The commission has been given two specific lines of inquiry. The first is to examine the rate structure of the power commission only (no mention is made of that of the B.C. Electric, despite Mr. Briggs' invidious comparison), and in that connection it is to check actual construction costs against original estimates. Surely it is unnecessary to set up a royal commission to do that. However, if the premier believes that it is necessary why stop with the power commission? Why not examine all capital expenditures by the government or on its behalf? Introduction of this element tends to support the contention of those who dubbed the inquiry a retaliatory move.

Secondly, the commission is to investigate effects of the refinancing program which sparked Mr. Briggs' explosion. That is necessary to clear the air. But while the royal commission may be able to report the net effect of refinancing on BCPC customers, it cannot answer the much larger question as to why the government is demanding a change in financial policy at this juncture. Only the premier can explain that.

Finally, the commission is directed to inquire into "such other matters pertaining to the operation of the BCPC as the commissioners deem proper." On the face of it that would seem to fulfill Premier Bennett's promise of a week ago that the commission would have the authority to examine "everything else." It should be noted, however, that the investigation is tied specifically to the operations of the power commission and nothing else, which is a far cry from the exposure sought by the former general manager and now demanded by a great many other people.

In short, this is to be an investigation of the power commission's past history. If there is any intention behind it to study the infinitely more important issues raised by Mr. Briggs —the whole future of development of B.C.'s water resources—that cannot be detected anywhere in the terms of reference which limit the extent of the inquiry. It will be interesting to see how the royal commission interprets its powers.

Improving the Amenities

THE Mayor is still hopeful that the Capital Improvements Commission might be persuaded to add to its renovating projects that part of Douglas Street running alongside Beacon Hill Park. The commission can scarcely undertake the improvement of all approaches to the Marine Drive which it has transformed into a splendid scenic thoroughfare, but there might be special reason for a favorable review of the south end of Douglas Street. This is the main civic approach to the waterfront and in its present condition it is an unpleasing tag-end to the work done along Dallas Road.

Supposedly the commission might also be invited to give its blessing to the proposal for a heated outdoor pool at Horseshoe Bay. Physically this comes within the sphere of the commission's recent activities at the seafront end of the park, and would complement the fine job done there under the CIDC label. If the project is feasible it would in fact cap the whole improvement plan in this part of the city.

In any case the idea of making use of the natural contours of Horseshoe Bay by enclosing the waters of that point is very much worthwhile. The one drawback to Victoria beaches as a tourist attraction is the coldness of Juan de Fuca. Elsewhere in the world such a disadvantage has been overcome by containing bay waters and heating them, and salt-water pools of this nature are a great attraction in other countries. Horseshoe Bay is perhaps none too large for the creation of such a pool but even so it could be a boon to residents and visitors alike.

The city engineer will be submitting details as to the feasibility of the idea and these will be awaited with interest. If the commission can be induced to lend a hand with such a project so much the better. One imagines it might view the project at least with some indulgence.

Geography, by the Clock

DAILY jetliner flights both ways across the Atlantic went into effect last week under British auspices. BOAC's Comet 4s make the westbound journey in about 6½ hours, and the eastward run in 10½ hours. The difference is in the prevailing winds and one touch-down, but it does not end there. London is flying hours "nearer" to New York than New York is to London; and this will hold for most of the year. In the same fashion, if Canada's airports were more ready to take them, high altitude jetliners may bring Victoria closer to Halifax.

In 50 years aviation has collapsed the real geographies of the world. Distance was once the main source of measurement over the physical surface of the globe. That is not so any longer. Quite apart from standard time, now it is distance, prevailing "trade" winds, flying speeds and meteorology combined in a new complex which may be very difficult to reduce to any map. The jet age has emphasized what was on the way before in conventional flight. Jet speeds of 600 miles per hour will make neighbors out of strangers in a bewildering fashion.

Interpreting the News

Soviets Trading for Position

By GEORGE KITCHEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

ONE of the more intriguing facets of Soviet policy in the continuing East-West cold war is the ease with which the Russians can turn pressure on and off—like a tap.

They turned it on in the Geneva atomic test ban talks last week by insisting that both sides agree to prohibit tests before they go on to work out methods of policing an atomic ban. The West wants to settle the policing arrangements first.

They turned it off in the United Nations this week by dropping demand that abolition of American overseas military bases be tied to the question of international control of outer space.

Instead, they proposed establishment of an 11-nation study group that comes very close to what the United States and other Western powers have been suggesting as a step towards peaceful co-operation in space developments.

What naturally intrigues the West is what prompted the Russians to make a concession that puts them in virtual agreement with the western powers.

One suggestion is that the Soviet insistence on a tie-in with U.S. overseas bases was nothing more than a propaganda gambit that they were prepared to drop once they had got out of it all the propaganda mileage they could. Now, they reap a benefit in reverse: a concession to the West makes them look good to the rest of the world.

In actual fact, the concession costs the Soviets nothing. The UN proposal is only for the creation of a study group to lay the ground-work for a permanent UN committee for co-operation in the study of outer space for peaceful purposes. There is nothing to stop the Russians from hog-tying the committee with new demands at a later stage.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

ONCE before, I think, long ago, I suggested that a dour face and what we call a dog-collar — I have tried but never found out the origin of this reversed neckwear—do not necessarily go together.

There was a picture in a Canadian paper the other day which supported such a thesis. It showed the Duke of Edinburgh and the Archbishop of Canterbury laughing uproariously at some joke.

The Duke of course is a bit of a wag himself. Remember how he startled the British press, now used to his wit and acute mind, by saying his train was "six drinks late." Coming from a prince this was then something new as well as refreshing. From the looks of this picture Dr. Fisher might be equally apt with a wisecrack. I don't remember that when he spoke in the Arena here a few years ago he told any jokes, but often enough he seems to have a twinkle in his eye.

And a recent Colonist colleague who was at school with him says the Archbishop was just like other boys. Most boys, as you know, like jokes.

The caption explains the Archbishop's merriment by saying they were reacting to a story told by another man of the cloth, the moderator of the Church of Scotland, Dr. Fraser. If the joke concerned bishops, a burning issue with adherents of the burning bush, that would make it all the merrier.

This Dr. Fraser has a genial quality, too, as I noted this summer while watching his installation in Edinburgh. It was a historic and important occasion but he leavened it with humor while addressing the Lord High Commissioner to his church's general assembly.

He is the parish minister of Hamilton and he told of the form the birth records in his charge take and cited three of the entries. The first read: "John Doe, son of William Doe, occupation miner"; the second, "James Atkins, son of Thomas Atkins, occupation soldier"; the third, "Douglas Douglas-Hamilton, son of the Duke of Hamilton, occupation duke."

That might not sound very hilarious, but it had subtle application to the Lord High Commissioner, who happened to be the present Duke of Hamilton, so it tickled the sober-garbed assembly no end.

So in fact did the retiring moderator, a man of forceful character and stern demeanour whose term of office had been full of controversy. He told a joke on himself about two Colonel Blimps, one believing the moderator to be a Communist and the other deeming him a Roman Catholic. In light of the Presbyterian tradition that was rich to the ears of his listeners.

There is some evidence, then, that in suitable settings or even in the midst of solemn ceremonial men of the cloth can unbend like lesser mortals. My own minister, for instance, and he is a theological heir of John Knox, can engage in humorous repartee with the best of laymen. So can others of the Victorian scene, even if on a Sunday morning you might not guess so.

Don't write a man off as a long-face because he wears a dog-collar; inside he might be bubbling with wit as well as wisdom.

Reports from Ottawa

THE official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway next summer seems to be shaping up as a double ribbon ceremony, because Ottawa and Washington haven't been able to agree on joint formalities.

We've invited the Queen to open the seaway, and she has accepted. The Americans, naturally enough, want President Eisenhower to open their section of the big ditch. But from that point on things become complicated.

The Canadian plan is to open the seaway where it begins, at Montreal, with perhaps a ribbon across the mouth of the first lock being broken by the bow of the royal yacht Britannia bearing the Queen and Prince Philip.

The American plan is to have the president and the Queen officiate jointly at a ceremony on suitable "contiguous territory"—perhaps with Ike gallantly holding a ribbon while HM severs it with golden shears.

No good, says Ottawa. The only suitable contiguous territory, officials here say, is the new international bridge across the St. Lawrence from near Cornwall, Ont., to near Massena, NY. But the RCMP, who will be responsible for the Queen's safety, don't want her packed in the middle of this narrow, two-lane structure with thousands of spectators jamming both approaches to the ceremonial dais.

Besides, Ottawa is wryly conscious of the fact that while Canada paid two-thirds of the cost of the seaway, the U.S. paid five-sixths of the cost of the bridge. So Ottawa is strongly inclined towards an opening at Montreal, with or without Ike. There the waterway starts, officials emphasize, and there 300,000 spectators can be accommodated easily on 350 acres of seaway property just downstream from the first lock.

Nobody here doubts that a ceremony at Montreal would be without Ike. Certainly the U.S. will not forego a ceremony on its own soil to permit the president to play second fiddle to the "English Queen" at Montreal.

It would be a nice touch if each principal would attend the other's opening ceremony as honored guest, but barring such friendly—and unlikely—solution, it promises to be a case of "You open your seaway and we'll open ours."

Except for what would amount to little more than an across-the-border handshake when the Britannia goes through the American seaway locks, the Queen is not expected to visit the U.S. next year.

This expectation could be frustrated if international events convince the British that a visit by the Queen to the U.S. would help Anglo-American relations in some as yet unforseen crisis.

But the timetable Ottawa and the palace are teging up calls for the Queen to devote her full time, during her absence from Britain, to her Canadian subjects — as her sister, Princess Margaret, did last summer. Whether the princess would have liked to visit the States isn't known, because such a visit wasn't considered after the Diefenbaker government had quietly forewarned that Canadians would not look upon such a visit with favor.

This attitude is not simply jealous unwillingness to share our royal sisters with people who gave their royal ancestor the boot 175 years ago. Mainly, the attitude is due to realization that every day the royal visitor spends in the U.S. is one day less she can spend in Canada; X number of Canadian cities she will be unable to visit; X number of Canadians who will be deprived of an opportunity to see her.

Christmas Hocus Pocus

By GREGORY CLARK

PRECEDENT plays a big part in Christmas. Not in Christmas itself, but in this vast commercial hocus pocus we have contrived to make out of a holy day. Once we have given a Christmas present to a person a precedent is set which cannot thereafter be evaded. Whatever the value of that gift, precedent requires that we must continue giving gifts of that value, at least. Never less.

An elderly crony of mine has six grown-up children and 21 grandchildren. In addition to these are his wife, his own elderly sisters to the number of three, his wife's three sisters, all their six husbands, not to mention a small elect company of old close friends. His Christmas present list amounts to over 60 names.

"Now," he says, "I'm not mean. But at my age I'll be darned if I am going to the physical trouble and the mental anguish of choosing and to some extent doing the buying of 60 gifts. So this Christmas I am announcing to all my family and friends that in my opinion Christmas is for children. And this year nobody over 13 years of age gets a single thing from me. So as not to appear a skinflint, I am spending on the gifts to my eight grandchildren under 13 the same amount I formerly spent on the 60. If anybody other than those eight grandchildren gives me a gift, I am going to return it with a note of thanks, and a suggestion as to which children's party to send it."

His family thinks he is in his second childhood; not a bad place to be.

With the Classics

O blessed retirement, friend to life's decline,
Retreats from care, that never must be mine,
How happy he who crowns in shades like these
A youth of labor with an age of ease;
Who quits a world where strong temptations try,
And, since 'tis hard to combat, learns to fly!

—OLIVER GOLDSMITH.

Washington Angle

A Dangerous Game

By DAVID LAWRENCE

ALTHOUGH two weeks have passed since the congressional elections, no leader of the Democratic Party has seen fit to make a public statement that the American people have repudiated the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

Believing that the American people do not support the administration, Moscow has been encouraged to start a crisis in Berlin. The Kremlin doubtless is expecting the Democratic Party position to be that Berlin isn't worth fighting for and that, like Quemoy and Matsu, the American notes of protest are just a part of a "brink of war" manoeuvre by Secretary of State Dulles.

The tragic history of past behavior by dictatorship governments unfortunately confirms the fact that they move aggressively when they think the West is disunited and particularly when they think their strongest adversary is weakened by internal factionalism.

Daniel Schorr, formerly correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System in Moscow and now stationed in Warsaw, broadcast the other day this comment from the Polish capital:

"The accent is on Europe. The Communists have apparently convinced themselves that the Eisenhower administration has been too paralyzed by its election defeat to offer adequate resistance to a diplomatic offensive now against West Germany.

Almost immediately after the recent congressional elections in the United States, in which the Republican Party suffered a severe defeat, Premier Khrushchev told reporters that he interpreted the election to mean that the American people "have condemned the Dulles policy of positions of strength which is supported by Mr. Eisenhower." He added:

"People everywhere, including the American people, were opposed to the foreign policies of the Western Nations."

While, as usual, putting in a hypocritical disclaimer about not wanting to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States, the Communist leader has revealed nevertheless that the American elections are regarded by him as a victory for the Communist position in world affairs.

More important now is what the Moscow premier does about it. The fact that a crisis over the status of Berlin has been precipitated is significant of the Kremlin's belligerency. Its policy is evidently based on the idea that now is the time to press an advantage because the United States has a divided government.

It is regrettable that Senator Lyndon Johnson, majority leader, who was invited by Secretary Dulles to speak last week at the United Nations on the subject of control of outer space, has not made an unequivocal statement on down-to-earth questions like Berlin, Formosa, and the Middle East, where the Soviets may be doing some "brinkmanship" of their own. It seems unfortunate that America is not presenting, through her opposing political leaders, some semblance of unity in world affairs.

History shows that the danger of war increases when one side thinks the other is either too weak to fight back or is "paralyzed" by an election defeat, as Mr. Schorr phrased it in his broadcast.

There are, of course, the pacifists and appeasers and the well-intentioned but mistaken critics of the administration who have raised the cry that Quemoy or Matsu are not really worth fighting for. Will they say the same of Berlin, which is really a symbol of freedom in Central Europe? If America does not want to fall for the Communist trap which seeks to detach the West German Republic from its position as an effective ally in NATO, then the capital city which means so much sentimentally to the German people must not be forfeited.

The Moscow regime certainly is taking risks not only in trying to force the recognition of the East German government as an independent entity but also in shooting at the planes of the U.S. air force over the Baltic and over the Sea of Japan —far from land.

This is a game that could lead to a crisis with grave complications. The Moscow government has been for several months trying to test out American resoluteness. This was tried in the Middle East and resulted in the dispatch of American marines to Lebanon. Then the Far East was tested, and now it's Central Europe.

When they look at the "cold war" map, the Communists are evidently betting on a retreat by President Eisenhower in the face of criticism from the dominant political party in America. It certainly is a time for sincere bipartisanship in America.

Pig in a Poke

Apropos of the suggestions or recommendations of the expert-consultant, Dr. Deutsch, concerning the "details" (which some of us might prefer to call basic foundation terms) of the proposed amalgamation of Victoria and Saanich, which "will require to be discussed" after the vote is taken, this is scarcely the usual order in business transactions. Very few people care to buy their pig in a poke.

There is a further point of at least equal importance which the (Saanich) supporters of this amalgamation project will be wise to consider. Assuming that the articles of amalgamation have been fully canvassed and that a satisfactory basis of agreement is reached, what guarantee have the minority—which will be Saanich—that such conditions will be faithfully observed? The civic reputation of Victoria city councils in this particular respect is by no means above suspicion.

When the installation of the parking meter system was under discussion, the revenue therefrom was to be applied to some form of relief from the parking problem. As was remarked in your columns quite recently, it was simply swept into general revenue and swallowed up. Any protest from Saanich taxpayers against similar perversions after amalgamation could (and doubtless would) be crushed by a steam-roller majority vote from the Victoria representatives.

For the Handicapped

The recent arrival, for a temporary period, on Vancouver Island of a mobile workshop to help provide various personal-aid equipment for persons physically handicapped from arthritis is a much needed step. The Arthritic Society is to be highly commended for providing this mobile workshop. It will be called upon to cover an enormous mileage throughout our province in the hands of the several occupational therapists employed by the Arthritic Society.

It is to be hoped that more of these mobile workshops will be put into operation to provide an adequate equipment service to the large number of persons in our province who are physically handicapped from all other causes in addition to arthritis.

Possibly all organizations interested might pool their financial resources to provide mobile workshops and equipment which will give an adequate province-wide service. Better still a complete province-wide unification of all efforts to provide personal-aid service to all physically handicapped persons, regardless of their type of disability, should be established.

The Handicapped Equipment Supply Association of B.C., a provincial organization approved by the Dominion of Canada as a charitable society, has been organized to provide a specialized personal-aid equipment service to all physically handicapped persons, regardless of their kind of disability, throughout our province. At present, we are in active operation on Vancouver Island. We have offered to co-operate fully with all other organizations to provide the much needed personal-aid equipment and our offer has been endorsed by some groups. We have made and distributed a variety of such equipment on a free loan basis to physically handicapped persons regardless of whether or not they are members of any organization. We make no distinction.

Only One Side Heard Says Church Official

TORONTO (CP)—Rev. Dr. W. Harold Young, secretary of the United Church board of colleges and secondary schools, said yesterday the report on firing of Prof. Harry S. Crowe "is the outcome of an inquiry in which witnesses were heard on one side only."

"Nothing in this report . . . shakes the confidence of the United Church in the integrity of Dr. Lockhart and the board of the college . . ."

Annual Convention

Farmers Discuss Problems Today

Farmers from throughout B.C. will meet here today and Wednesday in an effort to arrive at solutions to problems facing the province's agricultural industry.

More than 35 resolutions a third of which are from Vancouver Island bodies, will be up for discussion at the 25th annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

They include demands that a more equitable milk price be established, that the tax exemption on farm buildings be increased, that there be a separate research branch for the poultry industry, and that there be arbitration of labor disputes connected with perishable products.

The convention will start at 9:45 a.m. at the Empress Hotel.

Report Lambastes Firing of Professor

'Victim of Injustice'

TORONTO (CP) — Prof. Harry S. Crowe is a "victim of injustice" and his dismissal from the faculty of Winnipeg's United College was based on "less than a shred of evidence," says the report of an investigation by a committee of the Canadian Association of University Teachers.

The 78-page report, made public Monday night, says improper use was made by authorities of the United Church school of a letter written by the 36-year-old history professor to a colleague.

The letter first fell into the hands of the principal, Dr. W. H. Lockhart, who described it as a "profoundly disturbing" document. It has not been made public although committee members who have read it make clear it contains elements of criticism of some members of the faculty.

The letter was the central issue in a decision by the board of regents July 2 to order Prof. Crowe's dismissal with a year's notice. The board later summarily fired him after an exchange of communications over questions of salary and contract terms.

The committee report says the letter's contents are not "central to the matters under inquiry" and that publication would be, "without justification, making further inroads upon privacy of personal communication."

It says Prof. Crowe was wronged and that to rectify the situation the board of regents should invite him to resume teaching duties at the rank he had when dismissed [illegible] dealing with his ability and length of service. A graduate of the college, he began teaching there in 1950.

The fact that Dr. Lockhart read a letter not addressed to him and later discussed it with the board of regents was "an invasion of personal privacy," the committee report says.

The letter was addressed to W. A. Packer, associate professor of German at United College, but was intercepted by an unidentified individual [illegible] in another envelope with a note which said: "Found in college hall. We think you should read it. Some staff loyalty????"

Dr. Lockhart turned the original letter over to Prof. Packer after having photostats made of it.

Arsenal Menaced

Two Victoria hunters, who could possibly have blown up the Rocky Point arsenal, have been charged with trespassing on national defence property.

RCMP at Sooke said yesterday that the hunters were found Sunday well within the prohibited area, which is clearly posted.

The .303 rifle one man was using could have penetrated the doors of the magazine which contains tons of high explosive, police said.

Knott Death Inquest Set

Inquest into the death of Mrs. Emily Knott, 72, of 1224 Oxford, will be held in McCall's funeral home at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Knott was thought to have suffered only slight injuries at the time, but apparently she had severe internal injuries.

Selling Waves Bring Slump At New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market had its widest break in over three years.

Selling, accompanied by a late ticker, jolted prices in the morning. At noon the Dow-Jones average showed a loss of more than nine points. Then a slight recovery brought back some of the loss. Late in the day a new selling drive hit the market again on a late tape and the industrial average was driven down more than 14 points.

Declines Monday ranged to more than 6 points.

Adverse news was conjured up from all angles, including talk of a resumption of demand for bonds which have been in disfavor for a long time. New bond demand would detract buyers from stocks, it was held.

The loss in valuation approached the $6,500,000,000-mark. Widest declines were in issues recently in big demand in the market.

Loblaw Stock Drops

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market took its sharpest drop in more than two years amid moderately-active trading.

Final volume was 4,110,000 shares, compared with Friday's 4,385,000.

Industrial losses ranged to 7½ points by Loblaw Inc. Gas and oil pipelines, motors and steels were hardest hit. Calgary Power, at 75, was down 3 points.

Market observers placed the blame for the loss on the market in New York which suffered a major setback. Interlisted stocks were hardest hit here.

In western oils, Pacific Pete, at 16¼ and Calgary and Edmonton, at 27, each lost ⅝. Central Del Rio dipped 50 cents at $9.10.

Among speculative issues, Southern Union set the pace, trading 271,900 shares. It lost six cents at 54 cents. New Mylamaque added seven cents at $1.22 on 271,700 shares.

Utilities Weaken

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices fell in active trading. Losses ranged to as much as 3½ points.

The pipelines were lowwer. Interprovincial lost 1¼ at 41½. Trans-Canada declined ⅞ at 25 and Trans-Mountain was off ¼ at 9½.

Off ⅝ in the utilities was B.C. Phone at 40¾. Calgary declined 3¼ at 75 and Consumers' Gas was off 2 at 33½.

The banks were generally lower. Down ⅛ in the papers were Abitibi at 36¾ and Powell River at 38.

In the base metals Hudson Bay was off 1½ at 57¾. Down ¼ in the steels were Argus at 27¾ and Canadian Iron Foundries at 35. Stelco lost 2 at 66½. Canada Cement lost 1⅜ at 33½. The mines and oils were lower.

Nice Place to Visit, Georgia Not for Him

JEKYLL ISLAND, Ga. (CP) —Maurice Ruddick, mulatto survivor of the Springhill mine disaster, said Monday he will return to Nova Scotia in the hope of finding work rather than accept a job in segregated Georgia.

Ruddick, having his first experience with segregation on his vacation trip here, said he has enjoyed as good a time as he could have had anywhere.

But he was accustomed to the integrated way of life of Nova Scotia and would return.

He has found many excellent facilities for Negroes in Georgia "but segregation doesn't give people a chance to find out how they could get along."

The other vacationing Springhill miners — whites — inspected a seafood plant on nearby Saint Simons Island, where all the Nova Scotians and their wives have been offered jobs.

Apart from Ruddick, there were no immediate decisions on accepting the work. The miners have been jobless since Springhill collieries were closed following their entombment in an Oct. 23 disaster.

The visitors, numbering some 45 persons, are to fly back home today if transportation can be arranged. Eastern Airlines, on which they had reservations, was shut down by a strike Monday.

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Monday Britain has no intention of agreeing to end nuclear tests until a control system is defined with some precision.

Wood Check

Deftly balancing load of firewood on his head, a porter steps on scales to register weight of wood in Istanbul. Before gathering the wood, the porter's weight is recorded so it can be deducted from the final total. Firewood is a needed commodity in Turkey with winter approaching.

Prairies Warned

More Snow to Blow

WINNIPEG (CP) — The snow-shrouded eastern Prairies of Canada and the northern United States braced themselves Monday night for the second blowing snowstorm in a week.

Weather warnings issued for the border area between Regina and Winnipeg said light to moderate snow will be driven by winds up to 30 miles an hour. It said there would be extensive blowing and drifting.

"The peak of the storm will be felt in southern Saskatchewan early Monday night and in southern Manitoba late Monday night and Tuesday morning," the warning said.

Blizzard conditions with winds up to 50 miles an hour were forecast in the northern states.

The worst November snowstorm on record lashed southeastern Manitoba just one week ago.

Fragments in Court

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Fragments found in debris following an explosion in a Kelowna hotel last June were entered as exhibits Monday in the bombing conspiracy trial of five young men.

John Antufeaff, Sam Konkin, Alex Kondin, John Naxaroff and George Woykin are charged with conspiracy to make an explosive substance to cause damage to property.

'Up front is where I need protection' Says Dick Shatto.

The versatile Argonaut backfielder was talking about winter protection for his car. "'Prestone" Brand is the only anti-freeze that gives me complete protection up front in the cooling system of my car. Sure it protects against frost, foaming and clogging—but that's not all—not by a long shot,' said the Big Four star. "'Prestone" Anti-Freeze with magnetic film stops rust and corrosion, too.'

Dick has been well drilled in the signals to call when he asks for anti-freeze. Only with "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze does he get magnetic film which coats every rubber and metal surface in a car's cooling system. That's why he insists on "Prestone" Anti-Freeze. You do the same—and make sure that's what you get by looking for the distinctive Green Tag which will be attached to your radiator.

A Winnipeg school teacher talks back
She's tired of unjust criticism from parents

School teacher Sybil Shack is annoyed by amateur experts who criticize Canada's schools. Worst of all, she writes, parents are critical for the wrong reasons. Rather than attacking "progressive" methods of teaching, they should upbraid the system for its ultra conservatism. And she offers convincing proof in this thought-provoking article.

Four Boys Charged As School Vandals

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three city high schools were broken into during the weekend by vandals who smashed windows, up-ended tables and scattered books.

Heaviest damage was at Point Grey Junior High School. Glass doors in 10 classrooms and the office were smashed, books were thrown to the floor from library shelves and printer's type from the print shop was scattered around the school.

Four boys have been charged in connection with two of the break-ins.

School board officials could not give an immediate estimate of damage to the three schools, Point Grey, Quilchena High and Magee High.

Man Freed, Wife Blamed For Deaths

QUEBEC CITY (UPI) — Police said yesterday that new evidence indicated that Mrs. Francoise Legare, 28, shot her two young children to death and then took her own life.

Her 32-year-old husband, Marc, a municipal garage employee, had been arrested following the Saturday afternoon shooting in Legare's home in a fashionable section of the city.

Legare was first taken to a mental hospital for observation and later turned over to police. Sunday night, he was released and officials said he had taken no part in the triple killing.

Ghana, Guinea Join, Open State to Others

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters)—Ghana and Guinea, "inspired by the example of the 13 American colonies," Sunday declared their agreement to "constitute our two states as the nucleus of a union of West African states."

Leaders of the two countries said they hope other states now under foreign rule will join the union.

Announcement followed talks between Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and Sekou Toure, the premier of Guinea.

Nkrumah has long envisaged and worked for a West African federation that would include Nigeria, Sierra Leone and Gambia. Others mentioned as possible member states are the Ivory Coast, Togoland, French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa, Spanish West Africa and the Spanish-held island of Fernando Po, off the southwest Nigerian coast.

The declaration said Ghana and Guinea had agreed as a first step to adopt a union flag, develop the closest contacts and harmonize defence, foreign and economic policies.

Hot Debate Splits Council

Tennis Club Exemption Out

An almost evenly divided city council yesterday turned down a tax exemption for the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

In long and sometimes hot debate, one side maintained tax exemption would be a subsidy to a private club, and a dangerous precedent; the other, that the club was doing good work and needed relief from rising taxes.

Mayor Percy Scurrah said he opposed the $1,200 tax exemption "very definitely" because he felt it would not be right for the taxpayers to subsidize a private club.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, contending the club was needed to produce athletes and might go out of existence because of the taxes, accused the mayor and some other council members of having closed minds and failing to listen to the arguments of club vice-president George MacMinn.

Ald. Austin Curtis—who voted in favor of exemption—and the mayor objected to those remarks.

If the club raised its rates $3 a year it could pay the taxes, the mayor said, and he added that the present adult fee of $40 a year "is not a terrible price at all." (Ald. Dowell said his golf club fee was $120.)

A bylaw to exempt the club's property finally was defeated by a 5-4 vote.

Council also turned down a bylaw to exempt the lot occupied by the teachers' residence of St. Louis College.

Neish to Compete With Labor Entry

City council candidate Elgin Neish indicated yesterday he will stay in the race despite entry of a labor candidate.

Mr. Neish had said earlier that if labor entered a candidate he would consider withdrawing. Victoria Labor Council subsequently nominated A. W. Toone, but Mr. Neish said yesterday that he felt the three "outside" candidates — Mr. Toone, Mrs. Sally Rogers and he — "represent the interests of homeowners, labor and small business generally."

Cougars Back on Beam; Oppose Royals Tonight

Their seven-game winless streak over after a weekend in which they took three out of a possible four points from Vancouver Canucks, Victoria Cougars will test New Westminster Royals tonight for the first time since Oct. 22, when they played to a 5-5 tie on New Westminster ice.

PAT EGAN
. . . he's happy

Manager-coach Pat Egan, happy at the way his club bounced back after an unproductive trip to the Prairies, said last night he would go with the same club he used in the weekend games.

"We played our best defensive game of the season on Sunday," Egan said, referring to the 1-0 win over Canucks on Vancouver ice. "I think we are ready to move again and that we can pick up four more points before we have to start out on our second Prairie trip."

Winnipeg	14	7	6	1	59	61	15

Last night's score: Winnipeg 4 at Saskatoon 3 (overtime). Sunday's scores: Victoria 1 at Vancouver 0; Edmonton 5 at Seattle 2.
Next games: Tonight, New Westminster at Victoria; Spokane at Calgary.

After tonight's game at Memorial Arena, the Cougars host Seattle Totems on Saturday night, then head for Saskatoon for a game Tuesday. It's Winnipeg on the following Thursday, Edmonton on the Friday and Seattle the following night.

Although they bested the Royals here, 7-3, and tied on New Westminster ice in two games against the Royal City club, the Cougars may find Hal Laycoe's club more of a problem this time out.

INJURIES HURT

Royals suffered through disastrous early-season injuries which cost them the services of spark-plug Arnie Schmautz, Arlo Goodwin and Art Jones. They also lost defenceman George McAvoy when he was recalled by Providence and lost a bit when goalkeeper Bev Bentley was traded away and rookie Don Campbell given the job in the nets.

But Schmautz and Goodwin are back in action, Campbell has settled down a bit and Pete Wright, veteran defenceman obtained for Bentley, has had enough action to play himself into condition. At full strength, the Royals have probably the best group of forwards in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League and they should be a real test for the Cougar defence tonight.

LITTLE WRONG

As the score would indicate, there was little wrong with the defence on Sunday afternoon. Backed by a fine performance from Marcel Pelletier in goal, the Cougars made Stan Baliuk's second-period goal enough for both points.

Biggest test came in the second period when the Cougars had to play two men short for almost two minutes. Jim Hay was penalized at 10.08 and Carl Kaiser only 20 seconds later. Hay got a second penalty just after Kaiser returned but with Ted Harris as the lone defenceman and Doug Anderson and Doug Macaulley and Baliuk and Enio Selissizi alternating as penalty-killing combinations, the Cougars held.

SECOND SHUTOUT

It was the second shutout of the season for Pelletier, and both were needed to win as the Cougars scored only one goal in each instance.

Lyle Willey, claimed from Saskatoon on waivers arrived yesterday but it could be a while before he gets a chance to see action.

Egan would have liked to use Willey this week but with the club going good and the points needed feels he can't make any changes.

49er Fan (With Money) Finds Way

GREEN BAY, Wis. — An avid San Francisco 49er football fan found a way to follow the fortunes of his team Sunday, but it was a bit costly.

Visiting in New York, the fan telephoned long distance to a Green Bay radio station carrying a description of the game and asked an announcer to place the telephone receiver next to a radio speaker.

The man fed dimes, nickels and quarters into the phone for 2½ hours. When the game ended, a 33-12 victory for San Francisco, the man thanked the announcer for his toruble, declined to give his name and hung up.

New York telephone company estimates the call cost about $15.

Unitas' Arm Paces Colts

Baltimore Colts, with a healthy Johnny Unitas back at quarterback, appear well on their way to their first western conference National Football League title after Sunday's crushing 34-7 victory over Los Angeles Rams.

Unitas returned to action and celebrated by tossing two touchdown passes, one a 58-yard play to Lennie Moore on the first Baltimore scrimmage. He has now thrown 14 touchdown passes this season and at least one in each of his past 22 games. NFL record is 23 consecutive games.

Colts now lead the Chicago Bears by two games with three remaining. In Sunday's other western conference action, the Bears eliminated the Detroit Lions from playoff contention, 20-7, and San Francisco 49ers moved into fourth place with a 33-12 victory over Green Bay Packers.

In the eastern division, Pittsburgh Steelers, who started out the season by losing four of their first five games, made it four victories in a row by downing Chicago Cardinals, 27-20.

BROWNS WIN

However, the first-place Cleveland Browns stayed one game in front of New York Giants and two in front of the Steelers by beating Philadelphia Steelers, 28-14.

Bobby Mitchell, Cleveland's young blur, solidified his claim to rookie of the year honors, running the opening kickoff back 98 yards for a touchdown and coming back in the same quarter for a 69-yard touchdown on a punt return.

FIRST SHUTOUT

Giants scored their first shutout of the season, blanking Washington Redskins, 30-0.

If the Colts and Browns win the titles in their respective divisions, the championship game will be played Dec. 28 in Cleveland.

Spaniard Golfing Champion

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The dramatic victory of an ignored Spaniard and an underrated Irish team in Sunday's Canada Cup finals has been called further proof the United States and the British Isles no longer rule the world of golf.

Not only did Angel Miguel win the individual world's championship and Ireland the team trophy, but a list of the leaders sounded like a United Nations roster.

The Canadian team was 17th in the final standings. Henry Martell of Edmonton, who shot 74-73-77-79—294, stood 13th in individual placings, tied with Dave Thomas of Wales. Al Balding of Toronto was farther back with a 76-81-77-80—314.

Young Miguel and stocky, 45-year-old Harry Bradshaw of Ireland battled to an unexpected tie with 72-hole totals of 286. Without rest, Miguel and Bradshaw went into a sudden-death playoff. They were even for two holes. On the 18S-yard third, both sliced their drives into the spectators. Both balls bounced back into play on the green.

Miguel sank a spectacular 25-putt for a deuce, Bradshaw missed by inches and the Spaniard, new world's golf champion, was mobbed by many of the 12,000 fans.

Bradshaw's consistent play and the steady, never-far-behind Christy O'Connor combined to give Ireland the best team score—579—and a victory in the Canada Cup matches.

There were no promises made, but Victoria delegates to the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Soccer League in Vancouver Sunday came away with high hopes for a franchise for the coming season.

Victoria, Capilanos, and Wallace Athletic Club of Vancouver all applied for franchises. However, with the second half of the annual meeting only two weeks away officials decided to table the applications, along with reapplications from the present entrants, until Dec. 7.

St. Andrews, Carlings, Halcos, New Westminster Royals, Hungarians and Nanaimo City have all applied for re-entry into the league, but the Nanaimo and Hungarian franchises will be reviewed before acceptance and both clubs are considered to be on shaky ground.

Wallace Athletic, champions of the mainland third division, are rumored to have the inside track for a new franchise, with the Victoria entry a close second. However, there are two things in favor of the Island entry.

The PCSL has only one park, Callister, to use on the mainland, and needs another somewhere so that more than four teams can play on a weekend. With Nanaimo drawing so poorly last year, league officials are reported to favor a connection in Victoria.

Secondly, the Victoria entry has a reliable sponsor, although the name of the sponsoring company will not be released until such time as the entry is officially accepted.

Meanwhile, it was learned yesterday that the Victoria and District Football League may lose one of its teams. Nanaimo forfeited its Sunday game to Esquimalt, and the club will hold a meeting tonight to discuss withdrawal from the loop.

In Sunday's action, Leroy Bond did all the scoring for Brodie's Bakery, which toppled Heaneys, 3-1. Gogi Stewart scored for Heaneys.

Victoria Kickers tripped Ladysmith, 4-2, getting two goals from Helmut Schemitsch and one each from Jurgen Stoessel and Antol Major. Ron Sage got both goals for Ladysmith.

Masked Marvel Skates For Vernon Canadians

VERNON—The Masked Marvel, a right winger with a black hood over his head, played for Vernon Canadians here Saturday night when they blanked Penticton Vs, 2-0, in an Okanagan Hockey League game.

Canadians have been facing an attendance problem all season. About 1,200 fans were lured into the rink by the masked performer, whose identity remains a club secret.

Pro Baseball Promotion Shot Down by Council

Victoria's chances of securing a professional baseball franchise for next season have been squelched by the city council.

That, in essence, was the claim made yesterday by C. F. Mackenzie, president of Victoria Ventures Ltd., upon learning that city council had voted to "receive and file" an application for use of Royal Athletic park.

WERE ALL SET

"About six weeks ago, we were all set," Mackenzie said. "But I applied for permission to get the park, didn't get an answer by the specified date, and so the club we were going to tie in with made other arrangements.

"We made tentative arrangements with another club, but after being refused the park, there's not much we can do. It looks very much like we'll have to call its quits for this season anyway."

Judging from the reaction of council members yesterday, Mackenzie's request was dismissed on the grounds of impertinence.

The council, in reply to Mackenzie's first application, asked who the directors of Victoria Ventures Ltd. were, and how it planned to finance its operations.

'NO CONCERN'

Mr. Mackenzie, in a letter read yesterday, replied that the committee's enquiry was "the height of impertinence and is no concern of your council members."

He described the enquiry as an "inquisition" and added that the city was entitled only to know what dates the company might want to use the park.

"I think that's terrible," said Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson, whose parks committee received the letter.

"I would say we are not prepared to deal with this organization since we haven't received the sort of information we require," said Ald. M. H. Mooney.

"We should drop it in the wastebasket," he added in an aside.

Prairie Teams Move After Weekend Wins

Weekend Western Hockey League action involving Eastern Division clubs saw Winnipeg Warriors move within a point of leaving the basement and Edmonton Flyers extend their lead to six points.

Warriors, who have a winning record despite their position, came from behind at Saskatoon to outscore the Quakers, 4-3, when veteran Bill Mosienko potted his 10th goal after less than three minutes of overtime.

On Sunday at Seattle, rookie Murray Oliver came up with a four-goal performance to pace the Flyers to a 5-2 win over the Totems.

Totems also figured in a minor trade over the weekend, sending veteran Alex Kuzma to Vancouver for sophomore Jim Powers.

B.C.'s Best Curlers Totem Spiel Stars

VANCOUVER—B.C. curlers were more than holding their own against some outstanding Prairie entries as the annual Totem Bonspiel, with a record entry of 176 rinks, neared the end of the second day of play.

Veterans Frank Avery and Bung Cartmell and Dr. Harold Shatsky of Vancouver were among those who won their first three games, a list which also included Canadian-champion Matt Baldwin, Trail's Reg Stone and Dick Topping, a B.C. veteran from Oliver.

There were upsets by the score. G. Giske of Vancouver outscored Jimmy Hill of Delisle, former Saskatchewan champion, 9-7, and another Vancouver rink skipped by Donn Baykey knocked off two strong Winnipeg rinks skipped by C. Letherdale and Al Derrett. In another big upset, last year's Totem champion, Ken Anderson of Calgary, was upended, 9-6, by Bill Osborne's Port Alberni rink.

GUTOSKI BEATEN

Tony Gutoski, winner of the main event at the Totem in 1955 and defending B.C. Consols champion, won three of his first four games. He was upset in his second game, 8-9, by Keith Deacon when the New Westminster skip drew perfectly past two well-placed guards to get a piece of the four-foot ring with his last rock on an extra end. Deacon went ahead with four on the ninth and Gutoski tied it on the 10th end.

However, Gutoski rebounded to win his first game in the second primary event by defeating Harold Worth, former vice-skip for Hill who is skipping a Calgary rink. Gutoski also won his first event in the Capilano Event by edging Bill Cutt of Kitimat, 8-7.

Other Island rinks were holding their own and better. Victoria's Gar Taylor, who was a leading contender last year, was knocked out of both primary events, losing 10-11 and 9-10 decisions to T. Dickson of Cloverdale and Frank Law of Vancouver respectively, but won his other two games handily.

LOSES THRILLER

Elmer Hoffman of Victoria lost his first two games, one a 5-6 thriller to Cartmell, then came back to win twice. Gordie Moore of Victoria won two of his first three games, Osborne won his first two and Jim Chambers' RCN crew won one of the first three. Bob Fuller of Nanaimo broke even in his first four games, as did Dr. H. Bowker of Ladysmith. E. F. Henderson of Youbou was outlucked in dropping his first four games.

Fort William Canadian Champs

Fort William Redskins made good on their fourth straight try for the Canadian intermediate football championship Sunday, winning the title with a 10-0 victory over St. Francis Xavier University of Antigonish, N.S., before a crowd of 2,700 at Fort William.

Redskins, who defeated Oak Bay Drakes, 19-7, the previous weekend in Victoria for the western Canada crown, had a 1-0 lead at the half. They pushed over a converted touchdown in the third quarter and added two singles in the final 15 minutes.

Bruno Grobelney, Lakehead scoring champion, plunged nine yards for the touchdown. Eddie Kruppa converted and kicked for the three singles.

In Montreal, Saskatoon Hilltops erupted for three touchdowns in the second quarter and beat Montreal Notre Dame de Grace-Maple Leafs, 18-14, to win the Canadian junior final.

'Promise to Queen Broken'

Ratepayers Urge Span to Mainland

NANAIMO Vancouver Island Ratepayers Association will urge the provincial government to press for a bridge across Seymour Narrows to join the island with the mainland.

In a resolution unanimously passed Saturday night ratepayers suggested the BC government use as its main weapon the 80-year-old terms of union agreed upon when British Columbia joined Canada.

Included in these terms is a clause which pledges the [illegible] Island with the mainland by a rail and wagon bridge across Seymour Narrows on the federal government.

"These terms cannot be broken whether the federal government likes it or not," said Claude Harrison former mayor of Victoria.

The terms of union were set by Lord Carnarvon at the request of Queen Victoria in 1880.

Digging To Go Ahead For Burial of Wires

The B.C. Electric Co. plans five distinct steps this winter in its program to put all downtown wiring underground, a group of city merchants was told last night.

Addressing a meeting of the retail merchants' group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Merchants' Association Guy Barclay, a superintendent of the company, said the first excavations will begin Jan. 5.

Between Jan. 5 and Feb. 20 work crews will be going to contain electrical wiring along the whole of the east side of Douglas Street and the west side of the street between Cormorant and Herald Streets.

From Feb. 2 to March 6 workmen will concentrate on the south side of View Street and the east side of Govern ment Street from View to Courtney.

The third step to take from March 16 to April 3 will cover Johnson and Broughton Streets from Feb. 23 to April 3. Douglas Street from Yates to Courtney and between April 6 and May 1 the north side of Johnson Street and some small amount of work at Yates and Broad.

A similar amount of work will remain to be done next year and that will end the excavation work, Mr. Barclay said. All wiring is expected to be completely installed in 1961.

City engineer James Garnett who also attended the meeting, assured the businessmen that the city would make immediate repairs to road surfaces on temporary basis, followed shortly by permanent repairs.

Council Sets Merger Vote Aldermen Seek Information

Two aldermen maintained yesterday that ratepayers should have more information before voting on amalgamation with Saanich.

At a special meeting, city council gave preliminary approval to a bylaw for an amalgamation referendum at the civic elections Dec. 11.

But Ald. D. J. Proudfoot held that the voters should have more facts in terms of figures and costs and Ald. Geoffrey Fogerlow said the public should be given a clearer indication of council's attitude.

Mayor Percy Scurrah said the Deutsch report estimated immediate saving of $100,000 in administration costs and an eventual saving of $250,000 a year. But Ald. Proudfoot claimed that would be peanuts compared with the cost of police, sanitation and fire protection.

Imbibing Bird's Domain Sold to William Mearns

B.C. Electric Co. executive William C. Mearns is reported to have bought the valuable Courtney Street property where a brandy-bibbling parrot is guaranteed life "tenancy" through terms of a will.

Mr. Mearns, vice-president in charge of the company's Vancouver Island operations, was not available yesterday for comment. He left Victoria Wednesday for a two-week vacation in California.

The bird which presides over the property is Louis, a 100-year-old macaw, which was the pet of the late Miss Victoria Wilson, former owner of the land.

When Miss Wilson died in 1949 her will provided that Louis should live the rest of his life on the property before it could be developed in any way.

A Chinese attendant looks after the parrot's needs as provided by the will.

The property is opposite the Courtney Street RCMP headquarters, a block from the Empress Hotel. Reported price paid for the property was $42,000.

Former owner of the land was Vancouver hotel proprietor Douglas Abrams, who bought the property from Miss Wilson's estate. His plans to erect a $155,000 apartment block on the land were halted by the provisions of Miss Wilson's will.

Prospective buyers have been seeking a legal loophole to evict the feathered tenant.

Passenger Had Small Black Bag

Cabbie, Rider Blasted

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP) —Police say James Martin, 57, was seen lurking around the home of his estranged wife carrying a "small black bag" early Sunday shortly before a mysterious explosion ripped apart a taxicab killing Martin and the driver.

Police Chief William Allen said Monday it is believed Martin, a prospector and explosives expert, was carrying dynamite that accidentally exploded.

The cab, driven by Victor Waller, 30, was torn to pieces in front of the house where Mrs. Martin lives with her three sons.

The car's roof shot 65 feet into the air, ripping power lines and plunging part of the city into darkness.

New Firms Setting Records

The 276 companies incorporated in British Columbia last month set a new provincial record for number of companies incorporated in any one month, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said yesterday.

It proves that business is still booming in British Columbia, he said.

During the five years which ended Dec. 31, 1957, 170 new companies were incorporated each month. For the next five years, 1952 to 1957, the monthly average was 188, an increase of 67 per cent. Average for the first 10 months of this year is 244.

A similar trend is apparent in the list of companies which, although incorporated elsewhere, have registered to do business in British Columbia, Mr. Bonner said.

New List Issued Of B.C. Firms

New edition of "A List of Industrial Firms in British Columbia Segregated in Size Groups According to the Employment Reported in Each Plant Location," was released by Trade and Commerce Minister Robert Bonner yesterday.

It lists B.C. firms wiht 15 or more employees.

ADVANCED RESEARCH! Imperial Tobacco Company's research and development department — the most advanced research organization in the Canadian tobacco industry — has worked jointly for four years with leading Canadian firms to develop this new, all-Canadian filter. It is now on every Matinée cigarette.

NEW, IMPROVED FILTER! This improved filter — like the old-style — is made of a product of cellulose... a product which is one of the purest and most effective filtering materials known. But now Canadian suppliers and Imperial Tobacco scientists have found a way to apply the technique of producing finer filaments of this material to the making of cigarette filters. More of these incredibly thin filaments can now be put into one filter.

It is this greater number of finer filaments that raises the improved Matinée filter to its new high level of filtration efficiency.

Garden Notes

Don't Plant Too Deep

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One of the major disappointments in gardening is to shell out a few of those hard-earned dollars for a fruit tree and to see it put on vigorous growth year after year but with never a sign of any blossom or fruit. Sometimes this is due to buying cheap, bargain-counter trees from one of the mail-order firms—but more often than not the tree has gone all fat and lazy through too-generous treatment on the part of its owner.

The first thing to do in such cases is to check the depth of planting. All fruit trees are grafted, partly to restrict their size and to bring them into bearing earlier in life but too deep planting will nullify the dwarfing effect of the graft, for an apple or pear growing on its own roots may take fifteen years or more before producing any fruit.

The place where the tree was grafted can be seen as a swollen spot on the stem, and this must definitely be above the soil surface. If you can't find it, start digging. Chances are, if the graft was buried you'll find roots emerging from above the swelling and these are the cause of the vigorous growth and lack of fruitfulness.

All such above-graft roots must be ripped off flush with the stem, of course or you'd have an apple the size of a forest tree and you'll be drawing your old age pension before you get any fruit. These roots will grow again, though, if the graft swelling is re-covered with soil, so probably your best bet is to dig up the tree and replant it at its proper depth with the graft a good two inches above ground.

If you can rule out too-deep planting as the cause of unfruitfulness, your second suspect should be overly-rich soil, and the treatment here may take several forms. The simplest is to let sod or new grass seed over the root runs to use up the excess nitrogen and this is often remarkably effective, although the results may not show up for several years.

A more drastic operation is hacking, in which a notch about the width of a cigaret is cut completely around the trunk. I am not too enthusiastic over this business of hacking into a tree for while it will certainly curb excessive vigor I have seen too many cases where the operation was successful, but the patient died.

Where major surgery is indicated to teach a reluctant tree the error of its ways, I'd sooner do the hacking on the underground parts which have a greater power to regenerate themselves. This is known as root pruning.

A circular trench is dug around the tree with its inner edge three feet from the trunk. Any lateral roots encountered are cut cleanly preferably just below the point where a branch root is growing. The trench should be deep enough to penetrate well below the mass of roots and it is a good idea to finish off by driving a sharp spade on the slant, inward and downward to sever any roots which are plunging toward the depths.

When the work is completed mix a little peat moss with the excavated soil and refill the trench. Don't be too disappointed if the tree shrivels fuses to bloom next spring as the full effect of the operation won't be felt until the summer of 1959.

These treatments are indicated only when a tree fails to blossom. When it appears to be from the trouble is due to an entirely different cause, usually the lack of a "husband"—and all the hacking in the world won't help it bear fruit.

The Viewing World

By John Crosby

They're All Exhibitionists

We've got Sid Caesar, the Canadian curlers, Wayne and Shuster, a Western and Steve Allen on the same night. What more could anybody ask? Some of the guests were pretty good, but the piece de resistance was Sid Caesar. He was playing a Russian violinist who was trying to get back to Russia and was being detained in customs. The interrogation was conducted by Steve Allen, who was trying to get Caesar to admit he was a spy. Caesar, who was playing the violin with a cigaret dangling from his lips, was doing a marvelous job of acting stupid and dumb and he was getting away with it.

Then Allen asked Caesar to play a piece of music. Caesar said he'd be glad to and started playing the violin with his feet. Then he played it with his knees and finally with his elbows. It was a fine, rollicking performance that was wonderfully paced and funny.

Right on the heels of Sid Caesar appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show was what was meant as his first guest appearance and he was mighty funny, too, in a longish sketch about a gangster romance in the '20s. This sounded like a takeoff on all the old gangster movies Warner Brothers ever made. I particularly liked the final curtain with Miss Shore, arms around the dead gangster, played by Caesar, crying, "Now maybe somebody will do something about slum clearance." Remember all that stuff we had to put up with in the '30s?

In the December issue of "Esquire," Ben Hecht engages in some hysterical adulation of Oscar Levant on the rather strange grounds that he is the only honest exhibitionist on television. "I have never even as a single customer by a single wrong utterance.

Well, I agree that Levant is a funny man and that his performance might be interesting, if in questionable taste. But to single out Levant as the only practicing exhibitionist on television shows a lamentable ignorance of the medium. Where on earth have you been, Mr. Hecht? Practically every comedian on television has sold a bedfellows' version of his shtick to a national magazine.

Of course the comedians have confined their self-revelations to the magazines and kept it off their shows but this was not reluctance. It was just that on television exhibitionism doesn't have to be obvious. They can be neurotic in the magazines. I'm not sure I'd rather not keep the neuroses in the magazines, too.

"I'm a free-lance photographer. It's fun, money and people," says Mike Kovac, explaining his job on a show called Man With a Camera. Nat Fein, Pulitzer prize-winning newspaper photographer, has already complained that picture-taking doesn't seem to be nearly as important to Kovac as "general development."

This show is in the time-old tradition of movie journalism where publishers topple empires and reporters do all the district attorney's work for him. But what bugs me about this adventure series is the bop dialogue of the malevolent characters Kovac encounters.

The motives are questionable but at least the talk is decently unintelligible.

900 Empty Jars, He's Off to Mars

APPLETON, Wis. (UPI) — Airline French was driving along a highway a few weeks ago and read a sign that said a shaving cream company would give "Free—a trip to Mars—for 900 empty jars."

French advertised for empty shaving cream jars, collected 900, and told the company he was ready to make his flight to Mars.

The company will pay up. French leaves Dec. 7 for Mars—a hamlet with a population of 78 in Germany.

Highly scientific bidding landed declarer in an excellent contract. North "lied" about the length of his heart suit when he rebid three hearts, but it helped to give a picture of his singleton club when later he raised South's diamonds. Thereafter, Blackwood opened the way to bidding the small slam.

But in the play of the hand, a little bit of knowledge turned out to be disastrous. After winning the opening club lead with his ace, south drew two rounds of trumps, then played the spade ace; returned to his hand with the heart ace and led another spade. South had remembered to avoid a first round finesse whenever possible thus guarding against permitting East to win the trick with a singleton king. However as the cards lay declarer had to lose two spades to East's jack and king.

Tough luck? Not at all. South should have won the opening club lead drawn two rounds of trumps, ruffed a club on the board and cashed three hearts. At this point North and South would have only spades and diamonds, and by playing a spade to the dummy and covering West's card declarer would catch his contract. East would win the trick, but would now be forced to return a spade into dummy's ace-queen, or give South a ruff-sluff by leading a club and letting South throw his losing spade and ruff in dummy with his last trump.

It was a shame that North-South's careful bidding was not matched by equally careful play.

Arbitration Speed-Up Sought In Lengthy Steamship Dispute

Ottawa was asked yesterday to speed up its promise of appointing an arbitration board to settle the long-standing CPR coast steamships dispute.

Denis McKeown, business agent for the Marine Engineers, said he had written the federal government because "we mean to find out what is being done."

The CPR ships were tied up for two months in a strike last summer and arbitration was promised shortly after a special administrator was appointed.

"The government has had several weeks to appoint an arbitration board but they seem to have done nothing," he said. "I have sent them a letter today asking for some sort of action."

"PARKYAKARKUS" ... radio comic dies

Pocket-Knife Surgery Fails

Death Stopped Show

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — "Parkyakarkus," whose Greek dialect made him one of radio's great comedians in the 1930s, collapsed and died of a heart attack early yesterday at a star-studded Friars Club dinner honoring Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

More than 1,200 show business celebrities watched in horror as "Parky," whose real name was Harry Einstein, fell sideways into the arms of Milton Berle at the speaker's table.

Only seconds before, Einstein, 54, a permanent feature on the old Eddie Cantor show, had delivered what witnesses described as one of the funniest monologues of his career.

The echoes of laughter were still reverberating as he walked back to his chair.

Then he fell forward. There was chilled silence as he collapsed into Berle's arms.

"Please, somebody, a doctor!" shouted Berle. Five heart specialists in the audience rushed to Einstein's aid.

The comedian was carried to a small corridor behind the dais. There on the floor the doctors tried for nearly two hours to save his life.

Surgery with a pocket-knife opened his chest. Attempts were made to massage the heart. At one point a shock treatment, using the barrel ends of an electric cord was tried to revive the heart muscles. But at 1:10 a.m. "Parky" was pronounced dead.

Arnaz, ashen-faced, got up and said in barely audible words:

"How useless applause is. This offering meant so much to me. Now, it means nothing."

To a friend, he said: "They say the show must go on. But why must it?"

Then he took the award he had been presented by Emcee Art Linkletter and stuffed it carelessly in his pocket.

Clash Sparked by Girl's Remark

Five Ottawa Teen-Agers Charged in Gang Murder

OTTAWA (CP) — Five teen-agers have been charged with murder in the slaying of Robert O'Leary, stabbed through the heart in a gang fight early Sunday.

They were remanded a week without plea in a brief police court appearance yesterday.

O'Leary, who would have been 21 yesterday, was left dead in an Ottawa gutter following the gang clash sparked by a young girl's flippant comment in a restaurant argument earlier.

A blood-stained steak knife eight inches long was found nearby.

Six teen-agers were picked up near the scene after a policeman arrived and scared off the street fighters. Seven others — including two juvenile girls — were rounded up at their homes. After about 12 hours of questioning murder charges were laid against five of the 17 teen-agers.

Charged are William Robert Post, 19, and his 16-year-old brother James Montague Post, Henry Dupuis, 19, James McDermott, 17, and Thomas John Dram, 19. All are from average working-class families.

Police said the brawl came after O'Leary, another youth and two girls were in an Albert Street restaurant where they began to exchange remarks with another group of youths.

TV Debate Ignites Cypriot Tempers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot spokesmen shouted at each other Sunday in the heated aftermath of a TV debate.

Greek Cypriot Zenon Rossides told Turkish Cypriot Rauf Denktash: "go ahead and hit me if you want that will show how civilized you are."

Denktash did not hit him. He said only: "You are not entitled to call me a liar. I am not your slave yet."

Rossides retorted: "You are not entitled to call us murderers." He then invited Denktash to sit down and talk things over.

Rossides said "organized Turkish mobs" in Cyprus had burned 294 Greek buildings this year.

Denktash charged the Greek Cypriot underground had killed thousands of Turks. He told Rossides the Greeks would go on pushing the Turks until "you will get partition by bloodshed."

Two Killed Near Banff

Skiers Ignore Flags, Die in Avalanche

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — Two Calgary skiers died Sunday under an avalanche which swept down on them from Bow Summit, on the upper slopes of 10,119-foot Mount Thompson, near Lake Louise.

They are Robert Picken, 30, married, with one child, and Morley Chandler, 29, single.

The snow swept them down the mountainside at a tremendous speed for about 1,000 feet.

An official statement by the [illegible] said the avalanche occurred in an area posted with red flags to warn against skiing in the area.

The flags were carried with the victims of the tragedy to the foot of the mountain slope. One body was recovered after about 20 minutes search beneath three feet of snow.

The other was not found until after about three hours of frantic digging by rescue teams called in from the surrounding area.

Hundreds of skiers were on the slopes of the popular mountain when the accident occurred.

De Gaulle Triumphs In First-Round Vote

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Charles de Gaulle returned to Paris in triumph from his country retreat yesterday and began planning a new right-of-centre French government in the wake of his solid new victory at the polls.

Voting in the first parliamentary elections of the Fifth Republic, Frenchmen Sunday gave the Communists their [illegible] At the same time, in a marked swing to the right, they gave de Gaulle a massive, if indirect, vote of confidence.

It generally was assumed that the next French cabinet would be a rightist-centre coalition headed by the Union of the New Republic (UNR) — the Gaullist new party founded by right-wing Information Minister Jacques Soustelle.

The UNR picked up 17.6 per cent of the popular vote in the first round of the elections for a new National Assembly and appeared certain to become the largest single party group in the Chamber by far.

The Communists, on the other hand, lost about 1,500,000 votes. They received only 18.9 per cent of the vote, compared with 25.6 per cent in the 1956 parliamentary elections. They also stood to lose from 50 to 100 of their previous 150 assembly seats by the time voting is completed next Sunday.

Despite Soustelle's success at the polls many political experts doubted that he would become premier. Soustelle generally is regarded as an extreme rightist because of his political masterminding of the May 13 Algiers revolt that ultimately swept de Gaulle to power.

There was substantial backing for Justice Minister Michel Debre for the premiership.

'59 Ford Light and Medium Duty Models, like the handsome Styleside pickup above, offer you a choice of Canada's only modern "oversquare" truck Six and more powerful but thrifty V-8's. Through the line there are 12 engines—each a modern money-saver.

'59 Ford Extra Heavies, like this husky T-950, feature the unique Super Duty V-8's. Capacities range up to 51,000 lb. max. GVW, 75,000 lb. max. GCW in the tandems. Conventional and tilt cab models available up to 36,000 lb. GVW, 65,000 lb. GCW.

It's a simple money-saving fact:

'59 FORD TRUCKS OFFER YOU CANADA'S MOST MODERN TRUCK ENGINES SIX or V-8

Ford's outstanding advances in truck engine design boost gas mileage and extend engine life

You don't have to be an engineer to understand Ford's basic truck engine improvements. Or to see that in every horsepower class, from 139 hp to 277 hp, they add up to your best buy for high gas mileage, dependable performance and long engine life.

Here's one of the important facts: only Ford makes a truck Six that's "oversquare." In other words, a Six with a stroke that's shorter than the piston bore diameter.

Here's why "oversquare" design cuts your costs

The shorter the piston stroke is, the less friction there is between the piston and the cylinder walls. That means less wear. More usable power delivered to the rear wheels.

Consider a ½-ton pickup travelling just one mile in high gear. Each piston in the standard Ford Truck Six would travel 1,665 feet. That's 254 feet less than the pistons would travel in the best-selling competitive Six. 254 feet less of power-wasting friction.

In some cases competition has brought its piston travel per mile down closer to that of the Ford Truck Six by offering special "economy" axles. But in doing this they have cut acceleration. They've increased the possibility of harmful engine lugging. And still they haven't matched the shorter, thriftier piston travel of the Ford Truck Six!

Another advantage of Ford's "oversquare" design is that its wide bore allows big valve openings for this size engine. Result: better engine "breathing." Ample air is drawn in. And, after firing, the waste gases are "exhaled" more completely so that they don't interfere with the power cycle.

Why don't competitive Sixes offer "oversquare" design if it is such an advantage?

As a matter of fact, competition has recognized its merits. Their newest V-8's have adopted this Ford-pioneered design. And the strokes on competitive Sixes have been getting shorter. But these Sixes were designed years ago, and originally had quite long strokes. Ford, on the other hand, has produced the only truly modern truck Six. And though competitive engines have been amended and improved, they simply can't match its performance and economy.

Savings features of every Ford Truck engine

You'll find a short piston stroke and wide bore in every Ford Truck engine, not just the Six. And all the engines share other important cost-cutting features.

Ford's exclusive "deep block" design extends the engine block well below the center of the crankshaft. This gives greater rigidity, extra support to the crankshaft bearings . . . longer engine life.

Longer valve life is built in with another Ford-pioneered truck engine improvement. "free-turning" valve design. At almost any engine speed, the valves rotate. This evens out temperature stresses on the valves so that warpage and wear are greatly reduced.

Valve guides that are part of the block also add to valve life: Ford Truck valves run over 100° cooler than valves with the insert type of guide.

Of course, there are other significant features common to all Ford Truck engines. Wedge-shaped combustion chambers that swirl the fuel-air mixture to obtain more complete combustion. Dry element air cleaners that filter out 90% of the dust and dirt that older types let through. Improved carburetion for '59 that takes full advantage of today's higher-octane regular gasolines. And many other advances.

Extra features for extra-tough jobs

On really rugged jobs, medium and heavy duty trucks tend to develop high engine temperatures. But three major advances that are standard in Ford's Heavy Duty truck engines let them perform long and well in spite of the toughest use. Stress-relieved cylinder heads avoid warpage. Valves plus special valve seat inserts are faced with extremely durable alloys. (This is aircraft engine practice and is exclusive with Ford in the truck engine field.) And exhaust valve stems contain sodium that speeds the cooling of the valves.

Ford's HD engines also have 4-barrel carburetors to give reserve power. For top economy, these engines normally run on two barrels. The other two just cut in when needed. And a "de-popper" valve on these carburetors eliminates backfiring.

The greatest concentration of endurance features

Ford's three Super Duty V-8's are the most modern, efficient gasoline engines ever built for extra-heavy trucks. Along with the durability features of the Heavy Duty engines, they have a host of performance and endurance features of their own. Three-stage cooling . . . a submerged fuel pump that virtually eliminates vapor lock . . . a simplified direct-flow manifold . . . combustion chambers completely within the block . . . these are just some of the reasons these engines are handling the toughest jobs with unmatched economy and dependability.

Here's one simple example of their superiority: they develop more horsepower per pound than all other engines in their class—so you get big-truck power without useless engine weight. Or, for more evidence of their thrifty performance, check their high, flat torque curves at your Ford Truck Dealer's. The more you learn about Ford Truck engines, the more you will agree that Ford offers you Canada's most modern, money-saving truck engines, Six or V-8.

Free Forum on Amalgamation Tonight

Mayor Peter Sivertz and Reeve George Charlesworth last night urged West Saanich residents to attend the public meeting on amalgamation at Central Saanich High School auditorium tonight.

And East Saanich residents [illegible] of a forum stressed that the main question is for all residents to be present. This was the answer to get facts.

"I appreciate it is a hard decision to make. However, we are faced with a problem and we must overcome it," Mayor Sivertz said. "It is extremely important that people familiarize themselves with both sides of the question."

Reeve George Darlington agreed with Mayor Sivertz's remarks. "I would like very much to see a good panel there," he said.

Mr. Charlesworth's statement was aimed at quelling rumors that admission will be by invitation only.

"We sent out 2,500 invitations to taxpayers in both Saanich and Central," he said. "As a means of advertising the forum we sent a good panel there," he said.

Mr. Charlesworth's statement is not necessary. We want everyone possible to attend.

[illegible] Dunlop, the man who prepared the report [illegible] Victoria and Saanich, will speak before the debate.

Members of the panel are Forrest L. Shaw and Dudley Spurling, on behalf of the [illegible]

Romeo, Juliet Play Tragedy of Errors

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — A Chinese "Romeo and Juliet" played out a tragedy of errors over the weekend that left him dead and her in hospital.

When 19-year-old Pat Chu-tze's family refused to let her marry Huang Chang-fu, a 27-year-old clerk, he choked her with his necktie until he thought her dead and then threw himself under the wheels of a train. Miss Pat regained consciousness after several hours, then took poison when she heard of Huang's death. Doctors saved her life.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

MIGRAINE WAS THE SCHOOL TERROR. HE JUST MANAGED TO GRADUATE BEFORE HE WAS EXPELLED
NOT AGAIN! WHAT DID HE DO THIS TIME?
JUMPING FROM DESK TO DESK! — AND HE BROKE TWO WINDOWS WITH A WINDOW POLE!
TIME FAGGETH! THERE IS NOW A MIGRAINE, JR., AND LET THE KID COME HOME WITH A BAD SCHOOL REPORT! JUST LET HIM!
THAT'S RIGHT! A NOTE FROM THE TEACHER! HE WAS CAUGHT TALKING IN CLASS
A REGULAR JUVENILE DELINQUENT, HUH? I'LL LEARN HIM TO BEHAVE HIMSELF! WHERE DOES HE GET IT FROM, ANYWAY?

and I am one of the friendly salesmen at Moore-Whittington. I would like to extend my personal invitation to drop in and look over our complete stock of beautiful
WASHINGTON CABINET HARDWARE
Why not choose your hardware now for that new home? I will make a list and keep it on file till either you or your contractor wishes to order. Quality WASHINGTON CABINET HARDWARE will add many years of beauty and efficiency to your kitchen so won't you please come in and see our display?

I would like to mention that in our hardware department we still have a few Schlage Ornamental grip handles. Free with the purchase of a Schlage Key-in-Knob lockset. A very good buy at $7.20 each.

Several odds and ends were labelled for "BARGAIN ALLEY" during the week. These items are a terrific buy and won't last long.

GE Mixmaster. A complete model at less than separate component prices. Formica and Arborite tops. Smooth free-turning casters on cabinet base and splash back. Estimates the need for metal mouldings. Yes a one-piece counter top and splash back. 32 pieces in stock lengths from 30" to 72". More than 75% "the regular price" $2.25 per running foot.

Also GE Mixmaster corners, complete $25 each. A real buy.

And the same material in sheets 2x8 2x6 4x4 4x6 and 4x8. Many colors and patterns. While they last extra special at 55c per sq. ft.

Starlight Tile Board 4x8 sheets marked off in 4" squares. Several nice colours. Per sq. ft. 35c.

And as usual a good selection of odd doors, plywoods and frame sash, oak panelling, etc. etc.

SPECIAL!
Common lumber sheets 1x6 T&G, 4 foot lengths 6c each. Select lengths 8c each. 6-foot lengths 10c each.

Thank you

Not Marxist

China's Communes Condemned by Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (Reuters)—President Tito yesterday condemned Communist China for being "against political coexistence" and said the Peiping regime's newly formed communes had "nothing in common with Marxism".

It was the Yugoslav leader's first direct attack on the commune system, a drastic administrative reorganization in which millions of Chinese are being recruited for communal life in industry, agriculture and other forms of labor.

Tito told a cheering crowd of 10,000 persons in Slovenia he believed the current Soviet bloc campaign against Yugoslavia would "last a long time".

Tito said the leading role played by China in the bitter campaign launched against Yugoslavia "revisionism" was probably aimed at "some others".

Observers said this presumably referred to the Soviet Union itself.

Tito said he would not change its ties with Western countries nor would it stop being a socialist country.

Change Asked

Ross Bay Cemetery committee of city council will ask permission from the Public Utilities Commission to remove rock chips from plots in the cemetery.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren told the committee yesterday the rock chips made cemetery maintenance more difficult.

Election Manif...

Laborites Issue Plan for Peace

LONDON (AP)—The Labor party called yesterday for an election mandate to make Britain a third force to end the cold war.

The manifesto offered a four-point program for the Middle East, including a United Nations guarantee of the frontiers of all Middle East states including Israel, establishment of diplomatic relations between Britain and the United Arab Republic, creation of an economic council to fight poverty and ensure fairer distribution of oil profits and a fresh attempt at an Arab-Israeli settlement that would include Arab recognition of Israel and a solution to the Arab refugee problem.

On disarmament, the Labor party proposed "not only to cut the stocks of H-bombs and other weapons of mass destruction, but to cut all armed forces and armaments to the point where aggression would be impossible." As a first step, it would suspend nuclear tests whether other nations do so.

Gas Firm Officials Fined $500 Each

TORONTO (CP) — The Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company was fined $150 and costs yesterday by Magistrate Thomas Elmore for failure to file a prospectus with the Ontario Securities Commission.

Two of the company's officers, President Ralph Farris of Vancouver, and Vice-President Charles Spencer Clark of Seattle, Wash., were each fined $500 and costs on a similar charge.

Two other charges against the company and three against its officers were dismissed.

A charge against the company of failing to keep its books in Ontario and failing to act in good faith in selling a fair price for the stock was withdrawn by the commission. Similar charges against Clark and Farris were withdrawn.

Magistrate Elmore said the charges were highly technical and there was "no moral wrong done."
